1966

Alma Mater

Ole Edna High we love so dear
We lift our voices free of fear;
Preparing for our future years
With friendships true made here.

To our Cowboys brave who are fighting for
Our colors of white and blue,
For faith and hope and loyalty,
We pledge ourselves to you.

Editor's Message

As the year draws to a close, we look back with pleasure on the events that have taken place. We have attempted to capture the best and most outstanding of these memories between the covers of the 1966 Roundup. Special thanks go to our sponsors, Miss Meadie Pumphrey and Mrs. Gail Jordan, who were always willing to help us whenever we needed it. With the sincere wish that each of you will find among these pages something special—something you will remember for a long, long time—we give you the 1966 Roundup.

Superintendent's Message

On the whole, this year has been a happy one for the Edna High School students and patrons. Led by the fighting Cowboy football team, Cowboy band, pep squad, and student body, we fell into the spirit of "Ole Edna High" and continued to move forward.

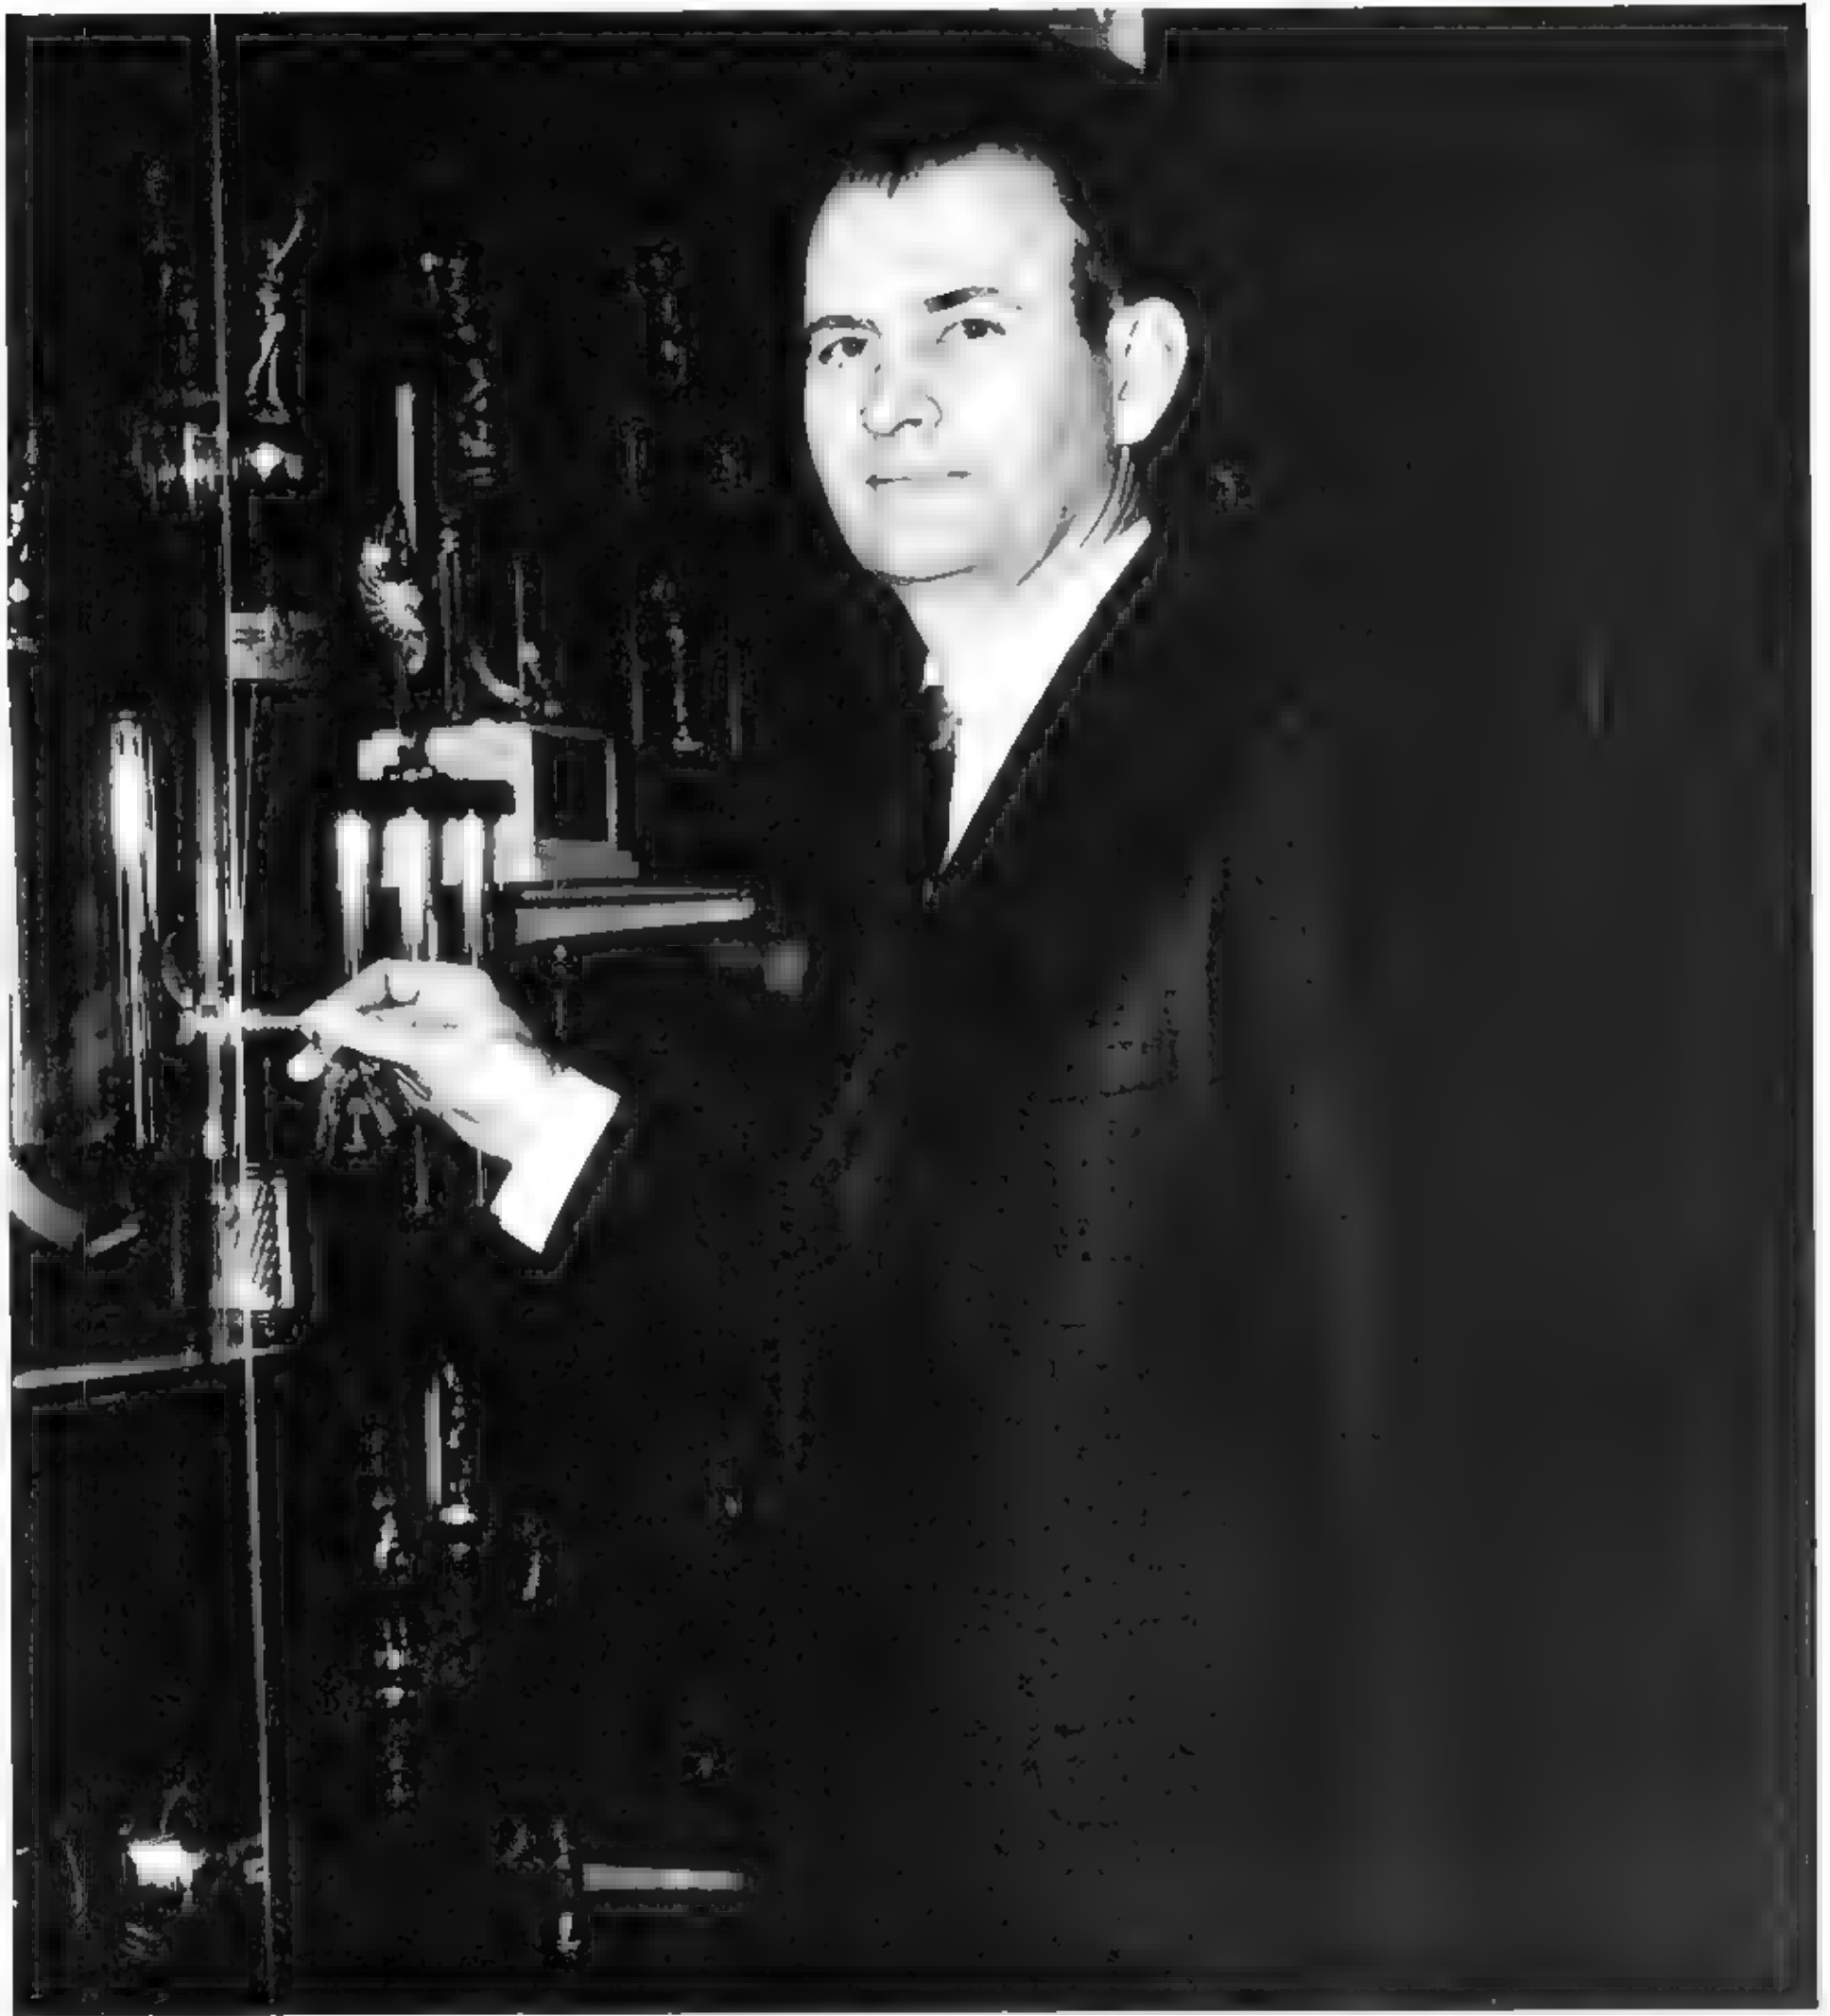

Edna High School has, in my opinion, one of the finest groups of students in the nation. Our students continue to uphold the honor and good name of the Edna schools with their loyalties to the school and its traditions.

It is my sincere hope that the administration and faculty have helped to guide each student toward those things during his school days that will make his life more pleasant and worthwhile. May your life be one of happiness, honor, and satisfaction.

Jerry Jacobs

Principal's Message

First years are purported to be the most difficult for fledgling principals. The students and faculty have smoothed the path for me.

The achievements and honors attained by you this year will long be remembered, but remembered best of all will be the friendly openhearted way you accepted your new principal.

Members of the Advanced Science Club stayed very busy this year. Early in the second semester they traveled to Goliad and attended a science symposium there. Accompanied by other science students, they later went on a field trip to the Alcoa Company at Point Comfort and the DuPont plant near Bloomington.

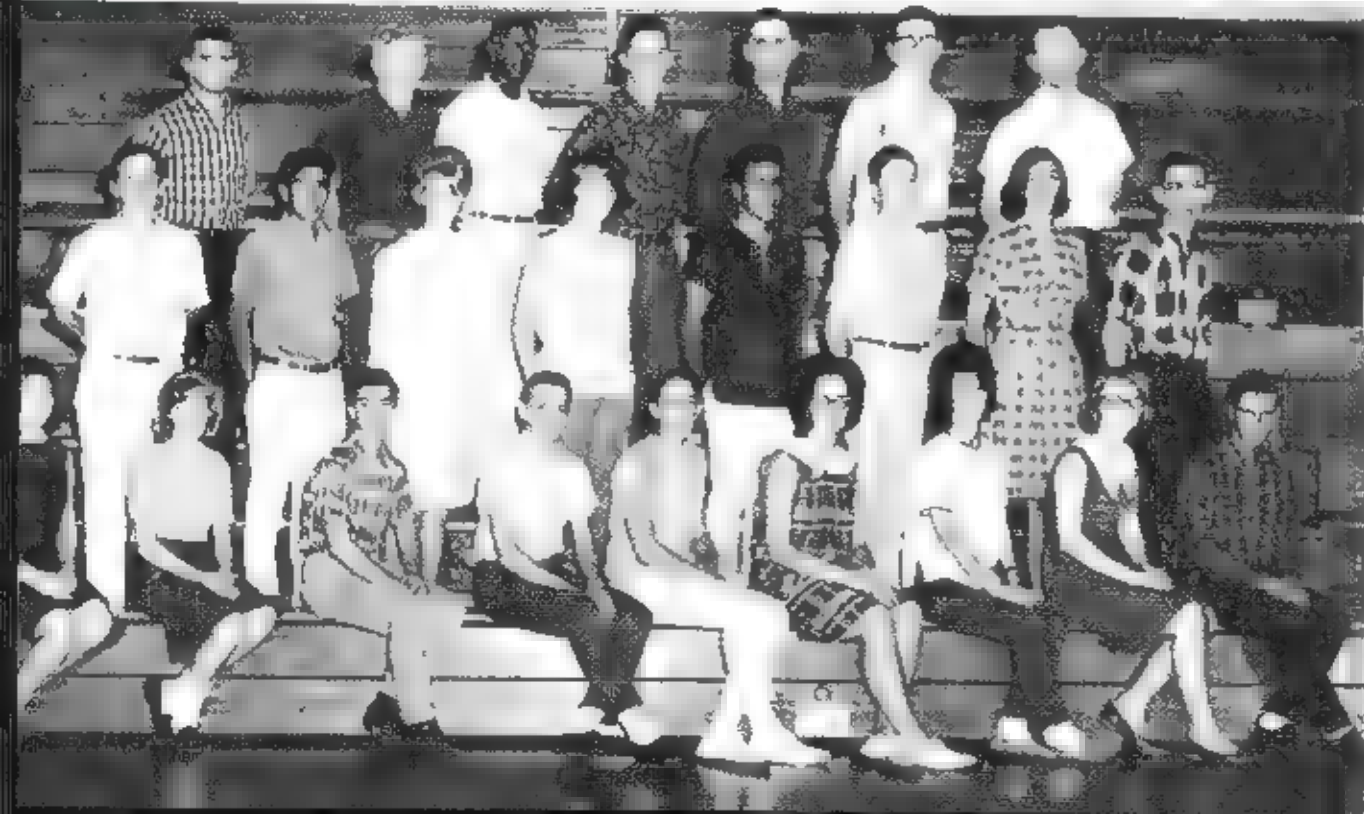

Under the leadership of Mr. McMichael and Mr. Blanchard, the Future Scientists worked hard and co-ordinated the Edna High Science Fair, which was a huge success. Another of their many activities was the sponsorship of a dance for all students.

Class History

The sun is high. The prairie stretches for endless miles. We see in this desolate land the towering structures of two ranch houses, whose lands are divided by a fence. The only visible signs of life are two tell-tale dust clouds approaching from opposite directions. These clouds foretell the arrival of the two groups of settlers who are to revive the spirit of this land. The wagons approach the respective ranches and stop. The settlers dismount and view their chosen land. This is the beginning of the Greatest Class Ever.

The anxious cowhands who board the wagon train that stops at the Shiloh ranch, alias Sam Houston Elementary School include Chuck Nelson, Tommy Anderson, Gloria Ann Garcia, Frankie Slone, Magdalen Vackar, Enda Good, Judy Vance, Lester Coalson, Tommy Miller, Oscar Rodriguez, Billy Tipton, Sandy Maxwell, Billie Hillman, Terry Ford, Danny Dunham, Becky Vance, Donald Egg, Gus Zavadil, Renee Burditt, Champ Cook, Danny Koop, Rusty Carroll, Robbin Odom, Lillie Orzabal, John Woods, Leonor Moreno, and George Jurica who moves on to the settlement of Vanderbilt after Shiloh's first payday. Tall in the saddle Larry Braddock rides in from LaWard in time to be counted as one of the 27 expert Shiloh cowpokes.

Across the fence we watch the Ponderosa, alias Stephen F. Austin Elementary School begin its reconstruction with the rip roaring group consisting of Leroy Nava, Forrest Wiegand, Rick Knowles, Jimmy Curlee, Brenda DaPron, Patty DeBord, Kathy Slusher, Chipper Koch, Leonard Steffek, Charles Unger, Paula Seligman, Joe Whitley, Charlotte Heimlich, Brenda Sowell, Bessie Steffek, Linda Sloan, Sharyl Cardwell, and Gloria Floyd. This country proves to be too much for little Charlotte Heimlich who leaves the Ponderosa for Big Springs. That Southern soprano, Beverly Clark, glides in from Port Lavaca just in time to give the cowpokes a few notes on how to sing those deep base range lullabies.

In the fall of the second year Glenda Hamman and Lynn Utz gallop in from the secluded Winter's ranch in the valley just in time to help with the table clearing at the Ponderosa.

About this time we see "GD" alias Genell Franck stumbling into the Ponderosa and close behind comes a pale Industrial girl, Barbara Warburton, crawling in from the Cobra Country. The Ponderosa is now 22 strong with the additions of Mary DeLeon, David Marthiljohni, and the transfer of Rusty Carroll from across the fence. Three calmer cowpokes, namely Jane Ottley, Barbara Herin, and Ginger Holloway trot into Shiloh in time for the Saturday night dance in town. The Munoz sisters, Stella and Lenora, ride in from Banquete to aid the ranch hands in the second year's rebuilding of Shiloh. Wrangler Wayne Bouquet trots over from Victoria to help with the decorating of the Shiloh's halls for the next big shindig. When the news of the shindig reaches the Ponderosa, Rick Knowles is the first one to leave the ranch to get in on the fun next door.

The rains come in with Shirley Kubena when she canters into Shiloh in the third year from the Point Comfort waterhole. Dorothy Weinman arrives in time to see Bill Tipton, a "faithful" Shiloh hand, and Linda Sloan a "faithful" Ponderosa hand swap ranches. The result of a poker bet, no doubt. Tony Figeroa arrives at the Ponderosa in time to bid farewell to Leroy Nava who takes a brief trip to Corpus Christi, but returns the same year for undisclosed reasons.

During the fourth spring roundup, George Jurica decides that his return to Shiloh is his destiny. Meanwhile the Ponderosa welcomes two new cowpokes namely Lupe Estrello, from Francitas, and Robbin Odom, from across the fence.

The fifth year reveals the coming of Ann Browning and Lupe's transfer to the Shiloh. Wildcatter Rick Knowles, on hearing the rumors of rich oil strikes in Oklahoma decides to abandon Shiloh ranch chores to try his luck with black gold. The Ponderosa's chief cook and bottle washer, Kathy Slusher, embarks on the perilous journey to Los Angeles, in search of the glamour not found on the ranch. Five tough troubleshooters arrive at the Ponderosa in the disguises of Douglas Hamman, the new square dance teacher, Robert Herrera, a giant lumberjack, Frank Macek, who comes to help with some scientific experimentation, Ricky Dunham, the spokesman for the troubleshooters, and Mary Agnes Garcia, one of the quieter members of the group.

Prevailing chaos during the sixth year results in the return of Kathy Slusher and Rick Knowles to their previous homes on the range. An argument over kitchen privileges results in a mass movement from the Ponderosa to Shiloh. These hungry cowpokes include: Genell Franek, Douglas Hamman, Frank Macek, Wayne Bouquet, Rusty Carroll, Brenda DaPron, Jimmy Curlee, Patty DeBord, Mary DeLeon, David Marthiljohni, Brenda Sowell, Bessie Steffek, Billy Tipton, Joe Whitley, Lynn Utz, Stella Munoz, Barbara Warburton, and Leonard Steffek. Buddy Miller arrives at Shiloh for the purpose of setting up a Jesse James Fan Club. Meanwhile the Ponderosa adds five new saddle-sore ranch hands to the payroll. These include that mortician-minded Lana Jo Bramham, who gravely arrives from Cuero to liven up the place, Larry Hobson and Royce Hudgeons, two extremely peaceful characters, Morris Utz, who is definitely not a drugstore cowboy, and John Magninat, who seems to have his own ideas about how a ranch should be run.

The seventh spring roundup finds the Shiloh and Ponderosa ranches combining their interests and athletic talents. With the return of Danny Koop, from a brief trip to Hallettsville, and the arrivals of two bronc busters in the forms of Danny McBride, from Lufkin, Texas, and Wayne Hunt, too add to the wealth of athletic potential already present, we see the vision of a great athletic program.

When the news of the organization of the greatest class ever hits Alexandria, Louisiana, Diana Prochaska races to join the beginning trail ride destined to form the greatest exodus that Edna Junior High has ever known. At the last minute, Dale Benavidas manages to catch a ride on the supply wagon. With the roundup complete, the trail ride sets out to enter EDNA HIGH SCHOOL with the intention of rewriting the record books.

The vision of the most dynamic class ever to enter EHS appears true with these additions: Calvin Cornelius Hunt, the Great Lover from Runge, Texas; Debbie Matthews, a little pygmy from Sulfur, Louisiana; Mary Ann Juranek, that true-blue girl from Corpus Christi; Evelyn Burrhus, a quiet transfer from St. Joseph's in Beeville; Agnes Malek, from the wilds of Vanderbilt; Jane Simpson, a preacher's kid from Mountain Home, Texas; and the inevitable return of Charlotte Heimlich. Western Day seems to be especially designed for the new, more sophisticated Fish, who literally tear up the competition in the tug-of-war. In search of peace and quiet, Oscar Rodriguez leaves to attend St. John's Seminary. The District One-Act Play, "The Imaginary Invalid" consisting of a majority of Freshmen actors win District, and the cast have a blast at Regional.

The tenth year reveals the arrivals of Jewel Bunton, a poor little rich girl from Wharton, and Kay Gholson, a preacher's daughter from Humble, and the return of Oscar Rodriguez. The long hot summer of 64 finds Barbara Warburton moving to the cooler climate of Seward, Nebraska.

The Junior year finds the class presenting the greatest Junior play ever, "Life With Father". Saturday evening of May first, the Juniors of 65 give the Seniors of 65 the greatest thrill of their high school years by honoring them with the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, the theme of which is "The Roaring Twenties". The decorating runs as smooth as clock work-ALMOST. There are a few minor changes on the gym doors to get our bar inside, and other last minute surprises, such as the PLINK, PLINK, of falling mirrors during the prom to add variety to the Venturas' music. The Junior-Senior trip, which is held at Old Ocean, is the climax of the year. The day is perfect, the sun is bright, the food is delicious and the cases of sunburn are in great abundance.

The twelfth year sees the arrival of a rice farmer in the form of Alcus Carter, and the return of Barbara Warburton from the North, and Edna High School's first foreign exchange student, Charles Jones, from Salto, Uruguay.

Predictions of the past come true as the Edna Cowboy Football Team gains momentum with each victory and enters the playoff games. The Homecoming Game is especially worthy of noting because of the new record set by beating Ganado 60 to 0. The Boys advance to the playoffs followed by the town of Edna, and loyal fans from afar. The night of December 18, finds the Cowboy team fighting in mud and rain for the AA Crown. Although Plano slips by the Cowboys by a score of 20 to 17, Edna and the Class of '66 know the Cowboys are the greatest team in the State.

Gwen Viken rides in from Corpus just in time to view the honoring of the great Cowboy team with "Hats Off To You" the theme of the Football Banquet.

The Senior Class, at the height of success, presents another great play, "Pioneer, Go Home". Breakfasts, luncheons, suppers, and parties, and parties, and parties, describe the Senior year after mid term. Bicycle riding becomes a past-time and in some cases, a necessity for the Senior girls, due to the numerous luncheons each week-end.

On April 30, the Junior Class had the privilege of presenting the Greatest Class Ever with the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, the theme of which was "Roman Holiday".

Five o'clock a.m. of Thursday, May 12, reveals a mass of suitcases, hair dryers, food boxes, overnight bags, and drowsy, innocent seniors, and unknowing sponsors loading up for the long-awaited trip to Garner State Park. There appears in the air a hint of Wednesday night mischief around ESH and other business establishments throughout the city. Stopping at Kenedy for breakfast, we notice a large amount of coffee being consumed. Arriving in the rain Thursday at noon, the park appears sleepy and dead. This changes soon however, with the unloading of the now wide-awake Senior Class. Swimming, paddle boat wars, miniature golf games, and eating characterize the first day.

The night life reveals various cabin parties, deadly serious poker games, and entertainment provided by John Magninat and his new accompanist. The second day finds the Seniors mountain climbing, swimming, shooting the rapids, and looking for Danny Koop, who being tuckered out from an all-night poker excursion, retires to a bus for a five-hour snooze. Friday night consists of a dance at the Pavilion, and the Battle of the Juke-box between the Seniors and the drugstore Cowboys of the vicinity. Poker games, more parties and another command performance end the last night at Garner. The buses load up at eleven a.m. and homeward bound is the Senior Class.

Our bus trip home gets close to a record when disaster, in the form of motor trouble, hits Coach Dollar's bus, which is filled half with Seniors and half with luggage. After a short wait the men give up and load the Seniors on the other buses. Making good time, now, the busses roll into ESH about four o'clock.

May 27 marks the beginning of the greatest adventures of the Senior's lives. The road of success has, along with many joys, the inevitable hardships and trials. Although each Senior is on his own now, he will be able to look back to the year of '66 and gain new strength and faith to conquer these hardships and advance a little farther along the road to success, knowing that he was a member of the Greatest Class Ever.

Class Prophecy

Here we are in 1976 and the Seniors of 1966 are gathering at Edna's rodeo arena for the Class Reunion. Our announcer for this occasion is our one and only Lester Coalson, President of the Rodeo Association. It seems like Lester will never get rid of the job of President. Other officers of the association seated in the announcer's box are Vice-President—Danny McBride; Secretary—Bessie Steffek; Treasurer—Rusty Carroll; and Reporter—Brenda DaPron.

Also sitting in the announcer's box is Shirley Kubena who is now a reporter for the Edna Herald. It is hard to forget an old boss. In the ticket office taking up tickets is Charles Jones who is still looking for a ticket back to Uruguay. Now we see Ganado High School coaches, Forrest Wiegand and Jimmy Curlee, entering the gate. Ganado decided to save them some gas by hiring them as coaches. The Sinclair station owner and operator, Ricky Dunham, did not care for this move as it decreased his gas business. Looking among the people in the grandstands we see the designer of this arena, Leonard Steffek.

Calvin Hunt will give the invocation. Our two choir majors, Danny Dunham and Beverly Clark, seem never to get away from their singing. Tonight they will sing our National Anthem. The piano accompanist will be Jane Ottley.

Leading the Grand Entry and carrying the United States flag is our old head cheerleader, Charlotte Heimlich who is doing a good job of being Pep Squad sponsor at Ganado High School. Carrying the Texas flag is Judy Vance who is teaching twirling at Texas now during the summer. Following them is Miss Frankie Slone, the 1976 Rodeo Queen and her escort Lynn Utz who always seems to be looking for someone to escort.

Oh! Here comes the world's two largest horses with no one riding them but our class giants, Enda Good and Barbara Herin.

Now as we look to the rear of the arena we can see if anyone gets hurt he will be rushed quickly to receive medical aid. Champ Cook is ready with Slavik's ambulance and Rick Knowles has Hutzler's ready. Seems like Lana Jo Bramham, the mortician, is standing around, trying to decide whom she wants to work for: Slavik's or Hutzler's. Also on hand tonight are our nurses, Mary DeLeon, Gloria Garcia, Dale Benavides, Tony Figeroa, and Lillie Orzabal.

Now it is time for our first entry of the rodeo. Out of chute Number 1 comes Robbin Odom on his bronc, White Goose. He seems not only to be having trouble riding his bronc but also his bass horn. And coming out of chute Number 3 we see Chuck Nelson on the bronc, Lone Star.

Faintly we can hear the voices of Paula Seligman in the old maid's corner selling peanuts, popcorn, and sandwiches—Could they by any chance be tuna fish? Seated in the old maid's corner are none other than Jane Simpson, Glenda Hamman, Lupe Estrello, and Sharyl Cardwell.

Up above we see Sandy Maxwell flying the American Airlines. Do you think he is still wearing the same helmet he wore on the Senior Trip? Someone has to hold the plane down so Kathy Slusher, the airline stewardess, is giving Sandy a helping hand.

Now entering the arena and giving the people a bow are Becky Vance and Virginia Holloway who will attempt a trick performance if Virginia doesn't get her finger caught in a rope loop.

Over in the north stands we see the band who will play for the dance later tonight. The members are John Magninat, Buddy Miller, and Terry Ford who are accompanying David Marthiljohn and Mary Ann Juranek who are still singing "Your Cheating Heart" after 10 years.

Now it is time for the barrel races. Participants are Patty DeBord, Stella Munoz, Debbie Matthews, Renee Burditt, Ann Browning, and Gwen Viken. Seems like they are always trying to get over one barrel or another.

Our country is in good hands as we see our Navy boys are here: Wayne Boquet and Larry Braddock. Also with us tonight are the Marines of the class: Royce Hudgeons, George Jurica, and Frank Macek.

We see Joe Whitley has just returned from his 11th trip to Garner. Looks as if he is still trying to recover his hat he lost in 1966.

Mike Grogan, our own Arnold Palmer, has just returned from the Masters Golf Tournament. He wouldn't tell anyone what he shot but sometimes we doubt if it was golf. Gus Zavadil, his caddie man, wouldn't tell us the truth either.

Evelyn Burrhus is sitting next to Billie Sue Hillman and trying very desperately to teach Billie Sue words without a Southern accent. Good luck, Evelyn!

We hear a lot of noise coming from the north stand where Tommy Miller and Brenda Sowell are sitting. It seems like there is still an argument over a bookkeeping problem after ten long years. Linda Sloan, the referee is over there now trying to break the old fight up once and for all.

Tommy Anderson who is an actor at the Alley Theater returned tonight for this occasion. Doing a good job in the concession stand are Mary Agnes Garcia, Kay Gholson, Lenora Morena, Gloria Floyd, Agnes Malek, and Lenora Munoz. In the stands we see Danny Koop, who has just invented a petroleum product for the bull riders called D.K. Glue. Donald Egg, prominent Jackson County State Banker, is sponsoring the new product. At last the clowns are coming out to put on their show. Leader of the clowns is Monkey man Robert Herrera who is driving the bucking Chevy. His companions riding in the back seat are Charles Unger and Oscar Rodriguez.

Now we go to chute Number 4 where you can see the first bull rider coming out. If you look closely you can see he is limping LeRoy Nava.

Before we say good night to all we have several announcements to make and special recognition to give to show our appreciation to the many people who have helped make this rodeo a success. The art show sponsor asked for the following winners of the Art Show to be announced; 1st place—Chipper Koch, 2nd place—Doug Hamman, and 3rd place—Genell Franek. We have just received word that Barbara Warburton won the KILT Spectacular dance contest. This contest was especially for girls who were go-go girls ten years ago. Special thanks to Jewel Bunton who seems to have done a good job of taking pictures tonight. A few people are wondering if Jewel remembers all the good pictures she took at Garner ten years ago. Diana Prochaska deserves a big thanks for providing material for a lot of the costumes tonight. Wayne Hunt and Alcus Carter deserve a big hand for furnishing the rice for the salad at the meal last night. The beef for the barbecue was donated by Bill Tipton, and Morris Utz, the ranchers of Texas. John Woods, owner of Woods Food Market, was responsible for the cutting of the meat. Our special thanks to our police woman, Magdalen Vackar, who did a fine job of keeping order here tonight.

Now we say a good night to all.
